CHELSEA L. DAVIS, §
Plaintiff, §
v. § Civil Action No. 3:14-CV-0056-N
MCKOOL SMITH, et al., §
Defendants. §

ORDER

This Order addresses Defendant McKool Smith’s motion to dismiss (“Def.’s Mot. Dismiss”) [Doc. 8]. For the following reasons, the Court grants the motion.

I. THE EMPLOYMENT DISPUTE

As both parties acknowledge, the claims in this action arise from Plaintiff Chelsea Davis’s former employment with McKool Smith. See Def.’s Mot. Dismiss 3; Pl.’s Opp’n 13 [9]. Davis states claims for sex discrimination; disability discrimination; racial discrimination; medical leave; wages and overtime; wage discrimination; conspiracy; false imprisonment; quantum meruit and unjust enrichment; assault and battery and conspiracy to commit assault and battery; wrongful termination; breach of contract; intentional infliction of emotional distress; fraud and promissory estoppel; negligent hiring, supervision, and retention; gross negligence; personal injury under 18 U.S.C. § 2255; conspiracy to violate various constitutional and statutory rights; sexual assault, aggravated sexual assault, federal assault, and sexual abuse; violation of 18 U.S.C. § 247; and violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1592.

On December 2, 2013, in an earlier lawsuit, Davis sued McKool Smith in the 298th Judicial District Court of Dallas County.<sup>1</sup> The state court ultimately dismissed the case with prejudice. McKool Smith now moves this Court to dismiss the complaint in this action.

II. THE STANDARD FOR DISMISSAL

When faced with a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss, a court must determine whether the plaintiff has asserted a legally sufficient claim for relief. Blackburn v. City of Marshall, 42 F.3d 925, 931 (5th Cir. 1995). A viable complaint must include “enough facts to state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.” Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007). To meet this “facial plausibility” standard, a plaintiff must “plead[] factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009). A court generally accepts well-pleaded facts as true and construes the complaint in the light most favorable to the plaintiff. Gines v. D.R. Horton, Inc., 699 F.3d 812, 816 (5th Cir. 2012). But a court does not “accept as true conclusory allegations, unwarranted factual inferences, or legal conclusions.” Ferrer v. Chevron Corp., 484 F.3d 776, 780 (5th Cir. 2007) (citation omitted). A plaintiff must provide “more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.” Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555. “Factual allegations must be enough to raise a right to relief above the speculative level on the assumption that all the allegations in the complaint are true (even if doubtful in fact).” Id. (citations omitted).

<sup>1</sup>When considering a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim, the Court may consider, in addition to the facts contained in the complaint, “matters of which they may take judicial notice.” Lovelace v. Software Spectrum Inc., 78 F.3d 1015, 1018 (5th Cir. 1996). “Courts may take notice of the judicial record in prior related proceedings.” Reneker v. Offill, 2010 WL 1541350, at *5 (N.D. Tex. 2010).

A court should grant dismissal under Rule 12(b)(6) “if a successful affirmative defense appears clearly on the face of the pleadings.” Clark v. Amoco Prod. Inc., 794 F.2d 967, 970 (5th Cir. 1986) (citing Kaiser Aluminum & Chem. Sales, Inc. v. Avondale Shipyards, Inc., 677 F.2d 1045, 1050 (5th Cir. 1982)). “With respect to a specific affirmative defense such as res judicata, the rule seems to be that if the facts are admitted or are not controverted or are conclusively established so that nothing further can be developed by a trial of the issue, the matter may be disposed of upon a motion to dismiss . . . .” Larter & Sons v. Dinkler Hotels Co., 199 F.2d 854, 855 (5th Cir. 1952).

III. THE COURT GRANTS MCKOOL SMITH’S MOTION TO DISMISS

A. Res Judicata Standard

McKool Smith first argues that Davis’s claims are barred by res judicata. Under the principles of res judicata, a plaintiff cannot relitigate claims “that either have been litigated or should have been raised in an earlier suit.” Test Masters Educ. Servs., Inc. v. Singh, 428 F.3d 559, 571 (5th Cir. 2005). Federal courts apply state res judicata law when determining the effect of a prior state court judgment. Ellis v. Amex Life Ins. Co., 211 F.3d 935, 937 (5th Cir. 2000). In Texas, res judicata applies where the following elements are met: “(1) a prior final judgment on the merits by a court of competent jurisdiction; (2) the same parties or those in privity with them; and (3) a second action based on the same claims as were raised or could have been raised in the first action.” Igal v. Brightstar Info. Tech. Grp., Inc., 250

S.W.3d 78, 86 (Tex. 2008) (citation omitted); see also Weaver v. Texas Capital Bank N.A., 660 F.3d 900, 906 (5th Cir. 2011).

B. Res Judicata Bars Davis's Claims

1. There Was a Final Judgment on the Merits. – On December 27, 2013, in response to a motion for sanctions, the judge in the state court action entered an order dismissing all of Davis's claims in that action with prejudice. See Def.'s Mot. Dismiss App. 004–006. That dismissal was a final judgment on the merits. Mossler v. Shields, 818 S.W.2d 752, 754 (Tex. 1991) (“[I]t is well established that a dismissal with prejudice functions as a final determination on the merits.”). That the court issued the order as a sanction does not change the fact that it is a final judgment. See id. (dismissal with prejudice as a discovery sanction was a final judgment with preclusive effect); Logan v. First Bank of Hous., Tex., 736 S.W.2d 927, 930–31 (Tex. App. – Beaumont 1987, writ ref'd n.r.e.) (same).

Davis contends that the state court lacked jurisdiction to enter the order. Davis argues that, because she took a nonsuit of her claims on December 4, 2013 and the court dismissed her claims without prejudice the same day, the court was without jurisdiction over the merits of her claims as of that date. This argument is contrary to the law. A state trial court has plenary power to act for thirty days following its dismissal of a case. See TEX. R. CIV. P. 329b(d) (“The trial court, regardless of whether an appeal has been perfected, has plenary power to grant a new trial or to vacate, modify, correct, or reform the judgment within thirty days after the judgment is signed.”); Scott & White Mem'l Hosp. v. Schexnider, 940 S.W.2d 594, 595–56 (Tex. 1996) (trial court had authority during its plenary jurisdiction to grant motion for sanctions that was filed following a dismissal in accordance with nonsuit). “A trial court’s power to modify its judgment is virtually absolute during the period of its plenary power.” In re Provine, 312 S.W.3d 824, 829 (Tex. App. – Houston [1st Dist.] 2009, no pet.). Davis took nonsuit of her claims and the case was dismissed without prejudice on December 4, 2013. Less than 30 days later, on December 27, 2013, the state court entered an amended order dismissing all claims with prejudice and imposing sanctions. See Def.’s Mot. Dismiss App. 004–006 (ordering that “the Court’s prior Order of Nonsuit without Prejudice is hereby vacated and replaced by this Order”). Because this action occurred within 30 days of the initial order, it fell within the court’s plenary power. Accordingly, the state court judgment was a final judgment on the merits by a court of competent jurisdiction for the purposes of res judicata.

2. *The Parties in Both Lawsuits Are Identical. – In both the state court action and this action, Chelsea Davis sued McKool Smith. Davis does not dispute that this element of res judicata has been established. See Pl.’s Opp’n 12. The second element of res judicata is accordingly satisfied.

3. *This Action Is Based on the Same Claims That Davis Raised or Could Have Raised in the State Court Action. – Courts applying Texas law use the transactional test to determine whether two suits involve the same cause of action. Citizens Ins. Co. of Am. v. Daccach, 217 S.W.3d 430, 449 (Tex. 2007). In applying this test, “a final judgment on an action extinguishes the right to bring suit on the transaction, or series of connected transactions, out of which the action arose.” Barr v. Resolution Trust Corp. ex rel. Sunbelt Fed. Sav., 837 S.W.2d 627, 631 (Tex. 1992) (citation omitted). Determining the scope of the transaction of the prior suit “requires ‘an analysis of the factual matters that make up the gist of the complaint, without regard to the form of the action.’” Daccach, 217 S.W.3d at 449 (quoting Barr, 837 S.W.2d at 631). The Court should “giv[e] weight to such considerations as whether the facts are related in time, space, origin, or motivation, whether they form a convenient trial unit, and whether their treatment as a trial unit conforms to the parties’ expectations or business understanding or usage.” Barr, 837 S.W.2d at 631 (citation omitted) (internal quotation marks omitted). “Any cause of action which arises out of those same facts should, if practicable, be litigated in the same lawsuit.” Id. at 630.

Here, both actions arise from the employment relationship between Davis and McKool Smith as well as allegations of Leslie Ware’s and Samuel Baxter’s misconduct. Compare Pl.’s Compl., with Pl.’s Opp’n App. 005–014 (“Pl.’s State Ct. Pet.”). Davis alleges facts regarding her employment with McKool Smith in both her State Court Petition, see Pl.’s State Ct. Pet. ¶¶ 10–13, and in her Complaint, see Pl.’s Compl. 2–3, 9–10. Davis also alleges facts regarding the misconduct of Ware and Baxter in both her State Court Petition, see Pl.’s State Ct. Pet. ¶¶ 11, 13, 14, and in her Complaint, see Pl.’s Compl. 3–4, 5–6, 7. In examining “the factual matters that make up the gist of the” State Court Petition, the scope of the transaction in the state court action was Davis's employment with McKool and the alleged actions of Ware and Baxter.

Although Davis asserts additional claims in this action that she did not assert in the state court action, she could have asserted the claims in the state court action. As Texas law makes clear, “[t]he scope of res judicata is not limited to matters actually litigated; the judgment in the first suit precludes a second action by the parties and their privies not only on matters actually litigated, but also on causes of action or defenses which arise out of the same subject matter and which might have been litigated in the first suit.” Texas Water Rights Comm'n v. Crow Iron Works, 582 S.W.2d 768, 771–72 (Tex. 1979) (emphasis added) (citations omitted). The fact that Davis chose not to assert these additional claims is irrelevant for the purposes of claim preclusion because the relevant inquiry is whether the claims asserted by plaintiff could have been litigated in the state lawsuit. All of the claims asserted in this action could have been asserted in the state action because they all arise from the transactions at issue in the state court action – specifically, her employment with McKool Smith and the alleged misconduct of Ware and Baxter. Accordingly, res judicata precludes Davis from asserting these claims in this case.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the Court grants McKool Smith's motion to dismiss.

SIXTH NOTICE OF REMOVAL

I, Chelsea L. Davis, hereby timely file my Notice of Removal of Chelsea L. Davis v. McKool Smith P.C., Samuel F. Baxter and Harlan R. Crow to the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas. Under Cause No. DC-13-14215, and in a sealed investigation in which I have not been permitted to produce any evidence or testify on the merits, Samuel Baxter appears to have obtained the signature of State Court District Judges and Associate Judges on several orders as follows, which are incorporated by reference herein:

1. ORDER DISMISSAL WITHOUT PREJUDICE Oct. 7, 2013
2. Order to Stay on the merits for all purposes Nov. 6, 2013
3. Order Nonsuit Nov. 19, 2013
4. ORDER - TRANSFER (NOT CHANGE OF VENUE) Nov. 21, 2013
5. Order Transfer/Consolidate Nov. 26, 2013
6. ORDER - CHANGE VENUE TRANSFER Dec. 11, 2013
7. Order re: motion for sanctions Dec. 16, 2013
8. ORDER - SANCTIONS Dec. 27, 2013
9. ORDER - SANCTIONS Jan. 30, 2014
10. Order re: reinstatement Feb. 3, 2014
11. ORDER TRANSFER June 10, 2014
12. ORDER - SANCTIONS June 17, 2014
13. ORDER - CONSOLIDATE June 17, 2014
14. ORDER - SANCTIONS June 17, 2014
15. STATE COURT OF APPEALS 5TH COA ORDERS, 05-13-01747-CV
16. ORDER REGARDING NONSUIT July 28, 2014
17. ORDER GRANTING MOTION FOR EXTENSION OF DEADLINES AND ORDER EXTENDING DEADLINE FOR FILING MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL Oct. 30, 2014

18. ORDER - TRANSFER (NOT CHANGE OF VENUE) Oct. 30, 2014

19. Order Recusal Nov. 13, 2014

20. Order Transfer Nov. 17, 2014

21. ORDER VACATING DISMISSAL Nov. 18, 2014

22. Case assignment pursuant to standing order Nov. 19, 2014

Certain orders may be void due to notice(s) of removal and/or order of transfer and motions regarding transfer. I never intended to dismiss any claim or cause of action. I merely refused to introduce my evidence to a court that lacked jurisdiction and authority to hear my claim(s) and/or cause(s) of action due to stay, transfer, consolidation, removal, severance, etc. I am being denied due process in the sealed grievance investigation and object to starting/stopping/proceeding of case/controversy during period in which I am denied due process.

I obtained the listings of documents from the court coordinator who works for Judge James Martin even though I am not technically permitted to access the file at this time, which may be included in this “case” and relevant in light of a proposed alleged order of severance, refiling/reopening and/or other proposed and/or alleged orders and Samuel Baxter and McKool Smith P.C.’s motions for sanctions and enforcement, which may or may not have been served on me as a party and to which I object for lack of service, notice, process, case or controversy prior to severance, etc. However, I timely present my notice of removal of allegations against me allegedly made in motions for sanctions. Also, I object to the numerous errors on the case summary/docket sheets listing documents and events because the listings contain numerous errors, including party designations where there are no parties.

Multiple additional appeals may be opened or pending in the Fifth District Court of Appeals, Dallas, Texas, which have (likely erroneously and without authority) been assigned Docket Nos. 05-13-01744-CV, 05-13-01747-CV, 05-13-01748-CV, 05-14-00090-CV, 05-14-00095-CV, 05-14-01105-CV, 05-14-01036-CV, 05-14-01034-CV, 05-14-00841-CV and 05-14-00846-CV, which are removed to this Court. Certain “proceedings” and/or “appeals” have been consolidated into Docket No. 05-13-01747-CV by the Fifth District Court of Appeals, Dallas, Texas.

There is much confusion as to how any cause number could have been opened and any proceeding could have proceeded due to the preliminary anti-suit injunction. There is much confusion as to how the state court sealed cause numbers from the public record and consolidated anything into a grievance investigation(s) and/or an alleged proceeding before the Board of Disciplinary Appeals, especially when there may not have been any finding or showing of just cause or disability. Pursuant to Tex. Gov. Code. Sec. 81.072(i), Chelsea Davis has requested a panel of a district grievance committee of the state bar that votes on a grievance matter to disclose to her “the number of members of the panel: (1) voting for a finding of just cause; (2) voting against a finding of just cause; and (3) abstaining from voting on the matter,” but she has not received the required disclosures. Id. No hearing has yet been held before an evidentiary panel or in district court.

A notice of removal was “filed” in state court in the 199th Judicial District Court of Collin County, Texas on Sept. 9, 2013 and in the 254th Judicial District Court of Dallas County, Texas on Oct. 28, 2013, Dec. 18, 2013, Jan. 9, 2014 and/or May 30, 2014. Orders of remand were “entered” on Feb. 11, 2014 and June 2, 2014. Attached is the “docket” summary of the thing assigned Case No. DF-13-19281 before Judge James Martin of the 254th Judicial District Court, Dallas County, Texas and the many random documents and things that Harlan Crow, Samuel Baxter, and McKool Smith P.C. continue to have state court judges sign that are groundless, unsworn, unsupported by any evidence, and absolutely ridiculous and untrue.

Under 28 U.S.C. Sec. 1442(a), “[a] civil action or criminal prosecution that is commenced in a State court and that is against or directed to any of the following may be removed by them to the district court of the United States for the district and division embracing the place wherein it is pending.” Id. Without waiving her right to contest the commencement and pendency of a proceeding in state court due to the preliminary anti-suit injunction and the fact that a grievance investigation by the State Bar of Texas cannot be a case, Chelsea Davis may remove the thing to the extent it is alleged by a civil action or criminal prosecution because she is an “officer (or any person acting under that officer) of the United States or of any agency thereof, in an official or individual capacity, for or relating to any act under color of such office.” 28 U.S.C. Sec. 1442(a)(1). She may also be “property holder whose title is derived from any such officer, where such action or prosecution affects the validity of any law of the United States”; or “[a]ny officer of the courts of the United States, for or relating to any act under color of office or in the performance of his duties.” Chelsea Davis may remove allegations against her law license made in motions for sanctions presented in state court to federal court because she is an officer of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, Reg. No. 63,791. Chelsea Davis is a person acting under the United States, its agencies or its officers that has been sued for or relating to any act under color of such office and has a colorable federal defense to the counter/intervenor plaintiff’s claim. Because she asserts a colorable government contractor defense, this Court may obtain federal subject matter jurisdiction. See State of La. v. Sparks, 978 F.2d 226, 232 (5th Cir. 1992) (“[T]he Supreme Court has for over two decades required a liberal interpretation of § 1442(a) in view of its chief purpose—to prevent federal officers who simply comply with a federal duty from being punished by a state court for doing so.”).

Importance: High

Adam, I am writing to request a 60 day extension of the stay in this matter. The basis for this request is as follows.

The day after your email below, Respondents set their motion to stay arbitration for hearing on December 5, 2014, before the 298th Judicial District Court of Dallas County. A copy of the Notice of Hearing is attached. This was the first date the Court had available for the hearing. Unfortunately, several weeks later the presiding judge of the 298th District Court, the Honorable Emily Tobolowsky, voluntarily recused herself, apparently based on Ms. Davis having named her as a defendant in a related case she filed in a different Texas court. The case was therefore reassigned to the 160th Judicial District Court of Dallas County. Copies of the recusal order and order of reassignment are attached.

Respondents then promptly secured a new hearing date, December 12, 2014, before Associate Judge McFarlin to whom the 160th District Court had referred the matter. (See attached Amended Notice of Hearing.) Shortly before this hearing was to be held, however, Ms. Davis purported to remove the case (which she had originally filed in State Court a year before) to federal court in order to prevent the 160th District Court or Judge McFarlin from proceeding. A copy of Ms. Davis's notice of the filing of the removal is attached hereto. The federal court has not yet remanded the case, although we are certain that it will, and it appears therefore that the hearing on our motion will not be held before the December 22 deadline referred to in your email below.

Finally, you should know that approximately 10 days after you advised that this matter was stayed for 60 days, Ms. Davis filed a new action against Respondents on these same claims in the United States District Court for Northern District of Texas. A copy of the complaint in that action is attached. Based on the fact that Ms. Davis's claims had already been dismissed with prejudice by more than one court, the Magistrate Judge recommended, on her own motion, that Ms. Davis's newest lawsuit against Respondents be immediately dismissed with prejudice. On December 10, 2014, the District Court accepted this recommendation and entered a final judgment dismissing Ms. Davis's claims against Respondents with prejudice. Copies of the Magistrate Judge's recommendation and the District Court's orders are also attached to this email.

Based on all of the foregoing, there is more than sufficient grounds for AAA to extend the stay of these proceedings for an additional 60 days. Ms. Davis has engaged in improper and frivolous tactics in order to prevent the State Court from hearing Respondents' motion to stay in a timely fashion. Moreover, she filed the same claims she seeks to assert in arbitration in federal court - after she initiated this arbitration - and the federal court has dismissed such claims with prejudice. Respondents should not be required to incur time and expense in another forum based on Ms. Davis's duplicative and vexatious filings before the court has the opportunity to rule on its motion to stay. In this regard, it should be noted that another Texas state court recently ruled, in another one of the many suits Ms. Davis has filed over the last year, that Ms. Davis is a "vexatious litigant" within the meaning of Texas Civil Practice & Remedies Code, and that she may not, therefore, file any further lawsuits in the Texas state courts without obtaining advance permission from the appropriate local administrative judge. A copy of this vexatious litigant order is also attached.

Please advise promptly if AAA will extend the stay. Of course, if you have any questions or require any further information, you should not hesitate to contact me. Thank you for your consideration of this matter.

Dear Counsel:

On the basis on Respondent's filing of the Motion to Stay arbitration, we will place this matter in abeyance for 60 days in accordance with Rule 1 of the Employment Arbitration Rules. The abeyance will end December 22, 2014, or if the court denies the motion, whichever is sooner. If the action is stayed by the court, we will not take further action until the stay is lifted.

Sincerely,

Adam Shoneck

Adam, as discussed in our telephone conversation yesterday, Respondents have not paid their portion of the filing fee because we intend to seek judicial intervention to stay the arbitration. As I indicated in an earlier conversation, Ms. Davis has already brought two lawsuits against McKool Smith arising out of her prior employment with the firm, and both cases were dismissed with prejudice. Copies of the dismissal orders are attached hereto for your review. Pursuant to Rule 1 of the Employment Arbitration Rules, I understand that we should provide AAA with a copy of our court filing by no later than October 29, at which time the arbitration proceedings will be automatically stayed for up to 60 days.

In addition to the dismissal of the prior lawsuits filed by Ms. Davis, I would also like to reiterate two other points we have previously discussed. First, Ms. Davis was never employed by GCEESP Associates, LLC, the second named Respondent in her arbitration demand, and there is no agreement to arbitrate that exists between Ms. Davis and that entity. Second, for unknown reasons, Ms. Davis's Demand for Arbitration identifies Wilmington, Delaware as the hearing locale for the arbitration. However, both respondents are based in Dallas, Ms. Davis formerly worked for McKool Smith in Dallas, and Ms. Davis currently lives in a Dallas suburb. There is absolutely no connection to Delaware in this dispute, and it would make no sense to select an arbitrator in Delaware or conduct any hearing in that state.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me.

CAUSE NO. DC-13-14215-M

CHELSEA L. DAVIS,

§ IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Plaintiff,

GARY FITZSIMMONS

McKOOL SMITH, P.C.,
Defendant.§ 298TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT OF

§ § § DALLAS COUNTY, TEXAS

DEFENDANT'S (1) MOTION TO ENFORCE JUDGMENT AND STAY ARBITRATION, AND
(2) MOTION TO DECLARE PLAINTIFF A VEXATIOUS LITIGANT

Defendant McKool Smith, P.C. ("McKool Smith), joined by GECESP Associates, LLC ("GECESP" and, together with McKool Smith, "Movants"), file this motion to enforce the Court's prior judgment and stay an arbitration filed by Plaintiff Chelsea Davis ("Davis") against McKool Smith and GECESP, and to have Davis declared a vexatious litigant pursuant to Chapter 11 of the Civil Practice and Remedies Code, and in support thereof, would show the Court the following:

I. INTRODUCTION

For more than a year, McKool Smith and others have been inundated by frivolous and duplicative lawsuits filed by Davis. Davis is a licensed Texas attorney who briefly worked as an associate at McKool Smith from March 2010 through January 2011. Beginning in August 2013, Davis began filing a series of lawsuits against McKool Smith and Samuel Baxter ("Baxter"), a McKool Smith shareholder. All told, Davis has filed at least 8 different suits against McKool Smith, Baxter, or both in the state and federal courts in Dallas and Collin counties. In a number of these cases Davis voluntarily dismissed her claims, only to turn around and re-file them in another action.

Importantly, Davis's claims against McKool Smith have already been adjudicated by this Court. On December 27, 2013, the Court entered an order in this action (the "Sanctions Order") sanctioning Davis for her abuse of the judicial system by, among other things, violating court orders, filing lawsuits in multiple courts, and filing discovery and groundless motions in cases that had already been dismissed. [See Exhibit A.] Based on this conduct, the Court imposed monetary sanctions on Davis and dismissed all of her claims against McKool Smith with prejudice.

Unfortunately, the Court's Sanctions Order did not deter Davis, and she continues to deluge McKool Smith and others with voluminous, frivolous, and usually nonsensical pleadings and other filings in this Court and elsewhere. Since the Sanctions Order was entered, for example, Davis has filed new lawsuits against Baxter and McKool Smith, as well as additional pleadings in this and other cases that have long been dismissed. She has also sent unsolicited emails and letters to the clerks, court coordinators, presiding judges, and administrative judges of Dallas and Collin County alleging judicial and other misconduct.

The United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas (the "Federal Court") has already dismissed a suit Davis filed against McKool Smith on res judicata grounds based on the Sanctions Order. [See Exhibit B.] In her latest gambit, Davis recently filed a demand for arbitration (the "Arbitration") against McKool Smith and

GCEESP, an investment entity owned by several shareholders and employees of McKool Smith, raising the same claims again. [See Exhibit C.]

The time has come to put an end to Davis's abuse of the judicial process. The Court should stay the Arbitration, which is barred by res judicata based on the Sanctions Order. In addition, the Court should declare Davis a vexatious litigant under TEX. CIV. PRAC. & REM. CODE §11.101 and enter an order prohibiting her from filing any new lawsuits pro se, and barring her from further abusive use of the Court's electronic filing system, without first obtaining permission to do so from the local administrative judge, the Honorable Robert Burns.

II. STATEMENT OF FACTS

As noted above, the Court has already dismissed this case with prejudice as a sanction for Davis's litigation misconduct through the date of the Sanctions Order. That conduct was detailed in the Defendant's Second Motion for Sanctions ("Sanctions Motion") filed herein on December 16, 2013, and, in the interest of brevity, Movants adopt and incorporate the Sanctions Motion. As set forth below, Davis's conduct has continued unabated since the Sanctions Motion was filed.

A. Davis Removes Her Own Lawsuit.

Just days after the Sanctions Motion was filed, Davis attempted to remove a case she had previously filed against Baxter and Leslie Ware ("Ware") in the 254th District Court. Contemporaneously with her notice of removal, Davis attempted to file a Complaint in the removed action, naming McKool Smith, Baxter, Ware, and others as defendants. The Federal Court quickly remanded the removed action to the 254th District Court sua sponte, and Davis voluntarily withdrew her purported Complaint in that proceeding.

B. Davis Files Another Federal Court Action.

Less than two weeks after the Court dismissed this action, Davis filed another lawsuit against McKool Smith, Civil Action No. 3:14-CV-00056, in the Federal Court, asserting a wide assortment of statutory and common law claims arising out of her employment at McKool Smith and her alleged mistreatment by McKool Smith and Baxter. McKool Smith promptly moved to dismiss on the ground that, among other things, Davis's claims were barred under principles of res judicata based on this Court's Sanctions Order. On September 30, 2014, the Federal Court granted McKool Smith's motion and ordered Davis's claims against McKool Smith dismissed with prejudice. [See Exhibit B.]

C. Davis Files Multiple Pleadings In Dismissed Cases.

Prior to this action, Davis had filed another action in this Court, Cause No. DC-13-12834, against McKool Smith and Baxter. The Court transferred that case to the 254th District Court (where Davis had previously sued Ware and Baxter), and Davis nonsuited all of her claims therein. In September 2014, however, Davis began filing multiple documents, including amended pleadings in the transferred action as if it were still ongoing. Davis also continues to file documents in this case, despite the fact it has been dismissed with prejudice, including various amended petitions. Davis's most recent pleading herein, filed on October 7, 2014, and denominated as Plaintiff's Fifth Amended Petition, specifically challenges the validity and preclusive effect of the Sanctions Order.

D. Davis Files Another Case Against Baxter, Ware And Others.

On September 5, 2014, Davis filed yet another action against Baxter and Ware in Collin County, Texas (the “Collin County Action”), once again complaining of their supposed mistreatment in connection with her employment at McKool Smith. Davis also named her former attorney, the judge and associate judge for the 254th District Court, and the presiding judge of this Court as defendants in the Collin County Action.

E. Davis Files The Arbitration.

On September 22, 2014, Davis filed the Arbitration against McKool Smith and GECESP, again asserting employment discrimination claims and seeking damages of more than $100 million. [See Exhibit C.] Significantly, Davis was never employed by GECESP, which is not an operating entity and has never had any employees.

III. ARGUMENT

As the Federal Court has already found, the Sanctions Order entered in this case bars Davis from relitigating her employment discrimination and other claims against McKool Smith. Moreover, Davis never had an employment agreement or any other relationship with GECESP, nor does she have any agreement to arbitrate with that entity. Accordingly, the Court should, under its inherent authority to enforce its judgments and TEX. CIV. PRAC. & REM. CODE §171.023, stay the Arbitration in its entirety. In addition, based on her continuing abuse of the judicial process, even after the Sanctions Order was entered, Davis should be declared a vexatious litigant and prohibited from filing additional lawsuits without first obtaining permission from the local administrative judge.

A. The Arbitration Should Be Stayed.

The Court has both statutory and inherent power to enforce its judgments, even after its plenary power has expired. See Hines v. Villalba, 231 S.W.3d 550, 553 (Tex. App. – Dallas 2007, no pet.). As part of the authority to enforce its judgment, the Court can determine whether an arbitration proceeding is precluded by such prior judgment. See W. Dow Hamm III Corp. v. Millennium Income Fund, 237 S.W.3d 745, 755 (Tex. App. – Houston [1st Dist.] 2007, no pet.); see also Rapid Settlements, Ltd. v. Symetra Life Ins. Co., 234 S.W.3d 788, 795-96 (Tex. App. – Tyler 2007, no pet.) (court is empowered to enjoin other court proceedings to confirm, enforce or compel arbitration in order to enforce its own prior judgment or to protect a party from vexatious or harassing litigation).

In addition to the inherent power to enforce its judgment, a court “may stay an arbitration commenced or threatened on application and a showing that there is not an agreement to arbitrate.” TEX. CIV. PRAC. & REM. CODE §171.023(a). If there is not a pending proceeding involving an issue referable to arbitration, the application to stay the arbitration may be made to any court. TEX. CIV. PRAC. & REM. CODE §171.024.

1. The Arbitration is Barred By Res Judicata.

Under Texas law, res judicata (or claim preclusion) prevents a party from relitigating claims where there has been a prior adjudication on the merits of the same claims between the same parties. Igal v. Brightstar Info. Tech. Grp., Inc., 250 S.W.3d 78, 86 (Tex. 2008). For res judicata purposes, the Court’s dismissal of Davis’s claims with prejudice in the Sanctions Order is a final judgment on the merits. Mossler v. Shields,

818 S.W.2d 752, 754 (Tex. 1991). And Davis's Arbitration demand involves the same cause of action that was at issue in this case and her Federal Court action against McKool Smith. As Judge Godbey held in dismissing Davis's claims against McKool Smith in the latter suit:

[B]oth actions arise from the employment relationship between Davis and McKool Smith as well as allegations of Leslie Ware's and Samuel Baxter's misconduct. ... Davis alleges facts regarding her employment in both her State Court Petition, ... and in her [Federal Court] Complaint. ... Davis also alleges facts regarding the misconduct of Ware and Baxter in both her State Court Petition, ..., and in her Complaint. ... In examining "the factual matters that make up the gist of the" State Court Petition, the scope of the transaction in the state court action was Davis's employment with McKool, and the alleged actions of Ware and Baxter.

[Exhibit B at 6-7 (citations omitted).]

Based on this analysis, Judge Godbey held that the Sanctions Order precluded Davis from reasserting her claims against McKool Smith on the basis of res judicata. [Exhibit B at 7.] This same analysis also forecloses Davis's effort to relitigate those claims in the Arbitration. As the Court can see from the attached Exhibit C, Davis's Arbitration demand once again asserts claims for various forms of employment discrimination against McKool Smith. These claims are barred by res judicata. In order to enforce and protect the integrity of its judgment in this case, therefore, the Court should stay the Arbitration.

2. There Is No Arbitration Agreement With GECESP.

The Court should also stay the Arbitration as to GECESP since there is no arbitration agreement between that entity and Davis. TEX. CIV. PRAC. & REM. CODE

§171.023(a) (authorizing court to stay an arbitration where there is no agreement to arbitrate); see also In re Kellogg Brown v. Root, Inc, 166 S.W.3d 732, 737 (Tex. 2005) (party seeking to compel arbitration must establish that a valid arbitration agreement exists and that the asserted claims fall within the scope of that agreement). Indeed, Davis has absolutely no relationship with GECESP, which doesn't even have any employees, so her claims against it are frivolous and represent nothing more than a further effort to use the judicial process for harassment.

B. The Court Should Declare Davis A Vexatious Litigant And Prohibit Her From Filing Additional Lawsuits Without The Permission Of The Local Administrative Judge.

The Court should also determine that Davis is a vexatious litigant under Chapter 11 of the CIVIL PRACTICE AND REMEDIES CODE. Under the criteria set forth in §11.054, Davis is a vexatious litigant because: (1) there is no reasonable probability that she will prevail against McKool Smith, and (2) she has repeatedly attempted to relitigate her claims against McKool Smith and the validity of the Court's decision in this case. Indeed, Davis is a textbook example of why the vexatious litigant statute was passed. Rather than simply appeal the Sanctions Order if she was dissatisfied with the Court's conclusion, she has repeatedly attempted to evade that order by numerous half-baked filings in this and other cases.<sup>1</sup> Moreover, she filed first a lawsuit in the Federal Court and now the Arbitration, asserting the same causes of action this Court has dismissed with prejudice. As the Federal Court has already concluded, there is no reasonable probability Davis can prevail on these claims because they are barred by res judicata.

In light of Davis's blatant abuse of the judicial process, the Court should find that Davis is a vexatious litigant and enter a pre-filing order under TEX. CIV. PRAC. & REM. CODE §11.101. See Pandozy v. Beaty, 254 S.W.3d 613, 619 (Tex. App. – Texarkana 2008, no pet.) (upholding finding that party was vexatious litigant where there was evidence of at least 7 separate actions he had instituted and lost or dismissed, as well as his attempts to continue proceedings in a case that had been dismissed). Pursuant to such an order, Davis would be prohibited from filing any new litigation without first obtaining the permission of the local administrative judge, the Honorable Robert Burns. Davis's history of vexatious litigation, as partially set forth in this motion and the Sanctions Motion,<sup>2</sup> demonstrates that nothing else will relieve the courts and the parties of the significant time and expense associated with having to deal with her countless frivolous filings. Moreover, given her perversion of the electronic filing system to abuse and harass McKool Smith, Baxter, and others with a torrent of filings in this and other suits that have already been dismissed or administratively closed, the Court should revoke her permission or privileges to use that system to make any filings in the future.

IV. CONCLUSION

For all of the foregoing reasons, McKool Smith and GECESP request that, upon notice to Davis and hearing, the Court enter an order that: (1) the Arbitration is permanently stayed in its entirety; (2) Davis is a vexatious litigant as defined in TEX. CIV. PRAC. & REM. CODE §11.054; and (3) Davis is prohibited from filing any new litigation in the courts of this state without obtaining the permission of the local administrative judge as set forth in TEX. CIV. PRAC. & REM. CODE §11.101(a).

AMENDED ORDER DISMISSING ALL CLAIMS WITH PREJUDICE, IMPOSING SANCTIONS, AND ENJOINING FURTHER FILINGS

On December 26, 2013, came on for hearing Defendants' Second Motion for Sanctions (the "Motion"). Although duly served with a copy of the Motion and an Order to Appear and Show Cause why the Court should not grant the Motion, and impose sanctions, based on the conduct detailed in the Motion, Plaintiff Chelsea Davis ("Davis") failed to respond to the Motion or appear at the hearing thereon.

Based on the conduct detailed in the Motion, Defendants seek the imposition of sanctions on Davis in the form of an Order (1) modifying the prior orders of dismissal so as to dismiss Davis's claims against Defendants with prejudice; (2) enjoining Davis from filing further lawsuits against Defendants; (3) imposing a monetary sanction of $10,000.00, and (4) awarding Defendants all of their costs and attorneys' fees incurred in connection with these cases, together with reasonable fees in the event of any appeal.

Based on the evidence and argument introduced at the hearing, the Court finds and concludes that Plaintiff has repeatedly filed, and dismissed, numerous lawsuits against Defendants in multiple courts asserting the same or related claims, with no intention of

~~prosecuting these various suits but instead for the purpose of harassing Defendants; and that such filings were an effort by Davis to forum shop and evade sealing and stay orders of this and other courts solely to generate publicity.~~

The Court ~~further~~ finds that Davis has acted in bad faith, and abused the judicial system, by repeatedly violating sealing and stay orders entered by this Court; improperly communicating with the Court on an ex parte basis, and by uninvited emails despite being instructed not to do so; filing groundless pleadings, motions, and other documents, including filing lawsuits in multiple courts on the same day alleging the exact same claims as were already pending before other courts, filing additional lawsuits naming different defendants on the same claims so as to avoid sealing and/or transfer orders, and filing discovery or groundless motions in cases already dismissed; making groundless accusations of misconduct against counsel and the judiciary, including forgery and corruption; and delivering numerous vile, obscene and offensive email communications to opposing counsel and Defendants.

Davis' abuse of the judicial system through the filing of groundless pleadings and motions for an improper purpose, and her bad faith and harassing actions and misconduct detailed by the evidence, threaten the integrity of the judicial system, and demonstrate her flagrant bad faith and callous disregard for court orders. These actions are sanctionable as violations of Tex. Civ. Prac. And Rem. Code §§10.001(1) and (3), and pursuant to the Court's inherent power. It is, therefore, accordingly

Pest

ORDERED that the Motion is hereby granted in its entirety and the Court's prior Order of Nonsuit without Prejudice is hereby vacated and replaced by this Order; it is further

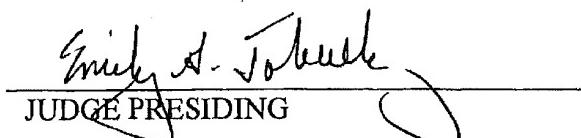

ORDERED that all claims asserted by Davis herein against these Defendants be and the same are hereby DISMISSED WITH PREJUDICE; it is further

ORDERED that Davis pay to Defendants the sum of $10,000.00 as a sanction; it is further

ORDERED that Defendants have and recover from Davis the sum of $65,000.00 as reasonable and necessary attorney's fees and expenses incurred by them as a result of Davis' sanctionable misconduct; it is further ORDERED that Davis be, and she hereby is, enjoined from any further filing against Defendants of the claims dismissed herein.

ORDER

This Order addresses Defendant McKool Smith's motion to dismiss ("Def.'s Mot. Dismiss") [Doc. 8]. For the following reasons, the Court grants the motion.

I. THE EMPLOYMENT DISPUTE

As both parties acknowledge, the claims in this action arise from Plaintiff Chelsea Davis's former employment with McKool Smith. See Def.'s Mot. Dismiss 3; Pl.'s Opp'n 13 [9]. Davis states claims for sex discrimination; disability discrimination; racial discrimination; medical leave; wages and overtime; wage discrimination; conspiracy; false imprisonment; quantum meruit and unjust enrichment; assault and battery and conspiracy to commit assault and battery; wrongful termination; breach of contract; intentional infliction of emotional distress; fraud and promissory estoppel; negligent hiring, supervision, and retention; gross negligence; personal injury under 18 U.S.C. § 2255; conspiracy to violate various constitutional and statutory rights; sexual assault, aggravated sexual assault, federal assault, and sexual abuse; violation of 18 U.S.C. § 247; and violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1592.

On December 2, 2013, in an earlier lawsuit, Davis sued McKool Smith in the 298th Judicial District Court of Dallas County.<sup>1</sup> The state court ultimately dismissed the case with prejudice. McKool Smith now moves this Court to dismiss the complaint in this action.

II. THE STANDARD FOR DISMISSAL

When faced with a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss, a court must determine whether the plaintiff has asserted a legally sufficient claim for relief. Blackburn v. City of Marshall, 42 F.3d 925, 931 (5th Cir. 1995). A viable complaint must include “enough facts to state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.” Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007). To meet this “facial plausibility” standard, a plaintiff must “plead[] factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009). A court generally accepts well-pleaded facts as true and construes the complaint in the light most favorable to the plaintiff. Gines v. D.R. Horton, Inc., 699 F.3d 812, 816 (5th Cir. 2012). But a court does not “accept as true conclusory allegations, unwarranted factual inferences, or legal conclusions.” Ferrer v. Chevron Corp., 484 F.3d 776, 780 (5th Cir. 2007) (citation omitted). A plaintiff must provide “more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.” Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555. “Factual allegations must be enough to raise a right to relief above the speculative level on the assumption that all the allegations in the complaint are true (even if doubtful in fact).” Id. (citations omitted).

<sup>1</sup>When considering a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim, the Court may consider, in addition to the facts contained in the complaint, “matters of which they may take judicial notice.” Lovelace v. Software Spectrum Inc., 78 F.3d 1015, 1018 (5th Cir. 1996). “Courts may take notice of the judicial record in prior related proceedings.” Reneker v. Offill, 2010 WL 1541350, at *5 (N.D. Tex. 2010).

A court should grant dismissal under Rule 12(b)(6) “if a successful affirmative defense appears clearly on the face of the pleadings.” Clark v. Amoco Prod. Inc., 794 F.2d 967, 970 (5th Cir. 1986) (citing Kaiser Aluminum & Chem. Sales, Inc. v. Avondale Shipyards, Inc., 677 F.2d 1045, 1050 (5th Cir. 1982)). “With respect to a specific affirmative defense such as res judicata, the rule seems to be that if the facts are admitted or are not controverted or are conclusively established so that nothing further can be developed by a trial of the issue, the matter may be disposed of upon a motion to dismiss . . . .” Larter & Sons v. Dinkler Hotels Co., 199 F.2d 854, 855 (5th Cir. 1952).

III. THE COURT GRANTS MCKOOL SMITH’S MOTION TO DISMISS

A. Res Judicata Standard

McKool Smith first argues that Davis’s claims are barred by res judicata. Under the principles of res judicata, a plaintiff cannot relitigate claims “that either have been litigated or should have been raised in an earlier suit.” Test Masters Educ. Servs., Inc. v. Singh, 428 F.3d 559, 571 (5th Cir. 2005). Federal courts apply state res judicata law when determining the effect of a prior state court judgment. Ellis v. Amex Life Ins. Co., 211 F.3d 935, 937 (5th Cir. 2000). In Texas, res judicata applies where the following elements are met: “(1) a prior final judgment on the merits by a court of competent jurisdiction; (2) the same parties or those in privity with them; and (3) a second action based on the same claims as were raised or could have been raised in the first action.” Igal v. Brightstar Info. Tech. Grp., Inc., 250

Case 3:14-cv-00056-N Document 14 Filed 09/30/14 Page 4 of 8 PageID 175

S.W.3d 78, 86 (Tex. 2008) (citation omitted); see also Weaver v. Texas Capital Bank N.A., 660 F.3d 900, 906 (5th Cir. 2011).

B. Res Judicata Bars Davis's Claims

1. There Was a Final Judgment on the Merits. – On December 27, 2013, in response to a motion for sanctions, the judge in the state court action entered an order dismissing all of Davis's claims in that action with prejudice. See Def.'s Mot. Dismiss App. 004–006. That dismissal was a final judgment on the merits. Mossler v. Shields, 818 S.W.2d 752, 754 (Tex. 1991) (“[I]t is well established that a dismissal with prejudice functions as a final determination on the merits.”). That the court issued the order as a sanction does not change the fact that it is a final judgment. See id. (dismissal with prejudice as a discovery sanction was a final judgment with preclusive effect); Logan v. First Bank of Hous., Tex., 736 S.W.2d 927, 930–31 (Tex. App. – Beaumont 1987, writ ref'd n.r.e.) (same).

Davis contends that the state court lacked jurisdiction to enter the order. Davis argues that, because she took a nonsuit of her claims on December 4, 2013 and the court dismissed her claims without prejudice the same day, the court was without jurisdiction over the merits of her claims as of that date. This argument is contrary to the law. A state trial court has plenary power to act for thirty days following its dismissal of a case. See TEX. R. CIV. P. 329b(d) (“The trial court, regardless of whether an appeal has been perfected, has plenary power to grant a new trial or to vacate, modify, correct, or reform the judgment within thirty days after the judgment is signed.”); Scott & White Mem'l Hosp. v. Schexnider, 940 S.W.2d

594, 595–56 (Tex. 1996) (trial court had authority during its plenary jurisdiction to grant motion for sanctions that was filed following a dismissal in accordance with nonsuit). “A trial court’s power to modify its judgment is virtually absolute during the period of its plenary power.” In re Provine, 312 S.W.3d 824, 829 (Tex. App. – Houston [1st Dist.] 2009, no pet.). Davis took nonsuit of her claims and the case was dismissed without prejudice on December 4, 2013. Less than 30 days later, on December 27, 2013, the state court entered an amended order dismissing all claims with prejudice and imposing sanctions. See Def.’s Mot. Dismiss App. 004–006 (ordering that “the Court’s prior Order of Nonsuit without Prejudice is hereby vacated and replaced by this Order”). Because this action occurred within 30 days of the initial order, it fell within the court’s plenary power. Accordingly, the state court judgment was a final judgment on the merits by a court of competent jurisdiction for the purposes of res judicata.

2. *The Parties in Both Lawsuits Are Identical. – In both the state court action and this action, Chelsea Davis sued McKool Smith. Davis does not dispute that this element of res judicata has been established. See Pl.’s Opp’n 12. The second element of res judicata is accordingly satisfied.

3. *This Action Is Based on the Same Claims That Davis Raised or Could Have Raised in the State Court Action. – Courts applying Texas law use the transactional test to determine whether two suits involve the same cause of action. Citizens Ins. Co. of Am. v. Daccach, 217 S.W.3d 430, 449 (Tex. 2007). In applying this test, “a final judgment on an action extinguishes the right to bring suit on the transaction, or series of connected transactions, out of which the action arose.” Barr v. Resolution Trust Corp. ex rel. Sunbelt Fed. Sav., 837 S.W.2d 627, 631 (Tex. 1992) (citation omitted). Determining the scope of the transaction of the prior suit “requires ‘an analysis of the factual matters that make up the gist of the complaint, without regard to the form of the action.’” Daccach, 217 S.W.3d at 449 (quoting Barr, 837 S.W.2d at 631). The Court should “giv[e] weight to such considerations as whether the facts are related in time, space, origin, or motivation, whether they form a convenient trial unit, and whether their treatment as a trial unit conforms to the parties’ expectations or business understanding or usage.” Barr, 837 S.W.2d at 631 (citation omitted) (internal quotation marks omitted). “Any cause of action which arises out of those same facts should, if practicable, be litigated in the same lawsuit.” Id. at 630.

Here, both actions arise from the employment relationship between Davis and McKool Smith as well as allegations of Leslie Ware’s and Samuel Baxter’s misconduct. Compare Pl.’s Compl., with Pl.’s Opp’n App. 005–014 (“Pl.’s State Ct. Pet.”). Davis alleges facts regarding her employment with McKool Smith in both her State Court Petition, see Pl.’s State Ct. Pet. ¶¶ 10–13, and in her Complaint, see Pl.’s Compl. 2–3, 9–10. Davis also alleges facts regarding the misconduct of Ware and Baxter in both her State Court Petition, see Pl.’s State Ct. Pet. ¶¶ 11, 13, 14, and in her Complaint, see Pl.’s Compl. 3–4, 5–6, 7. In examining “the factual matters that make up the gist of the” State Court Petition, the scope of the transaction in the state court action was Davis's employment with McKool and the alleged actions of Ware and Baxter.

Although Davis asserts additional claims in this action that she did not assert in the state court action, she could have asserted the claims in the state court action. As Texas law makes clear, “[t]he scope of res judicata is not limited to matters actually litigated; the judgment in the first suit precludes a second action by the parties and their privies not only on matters actually litigated, but also on causes of action or defenses which arise out of the same subject matter and which might have been litigated in the first suit.” Texas Water Rights Comm'n v. Crow Iron Works, 582 S.W.2d 768, 771–72 (Tex. 1979) (emphasis added) (citations omitted). The fact that Davis chose not to assert these additional claims is irrelevant for the purposes of claim preclusion because the relevant inquiry is whether the claims asserted by plaintiff could have been litigated in the state lawsuit. All of the claims asserted in this action could have been asserted in the state action because they all arise from the transactions at issue in the state court action – specifically, her employment with McKool Smith and the alleged misconduct of Ware and Baxter. Accordingly, res judicata precludes Davis from asserting these claims in this case.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the Court grants McKool Smith's motion to dismiss.

ARBITRATION AGREEMENT

READ THIS AGREEMENT CAREFULLY BEFORE YOU SIGN. THEN RETURN FOR RETENTION IN YOUR PERSONNEL FILE.

To resolve disputes which might become civil court cases, you and McKool Smith agree that the following disputes will be submitted to final and binding arbitration before a neutral arbitrator and not to any court.

- Claims of unlawful harassment or discrimination which cannot be resolved by the parties or during an investigation by an administrative agency (such as the Department of Fair Employment and Housing or the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission).
- Claims of unfair demotion or reduction in pay.
- Claims of wrongful discharge or termination.
- Claims of post-termination defamation.

You begin the arbitration process by delivering a written request for arbitration to McKool Smith within the time limits which would apply to the filing of a civil complaint in court. A late request will be void.

If we are unable to agree upon a neutral arbitrator, we will obtain a list of arbitrators from the American Arbitration Association. The arbitrator shall be bound by the provisions and procedures set forth in the 1989 Model Employment Arbitration Procedures of the American Arbitration Association. The arbitrator shall determine the prevailing party in the arbitration and the costs of the arbitration shall be paid by the non-prevailing party. The arbitrator shall have the authority to order any legal and equitable remedy which would be available in a civil or administrative action on the claim.

This arbitration shall be exclusive means of resolving any disputes(s) listed in this agreement and no other action will be brought in any court or administrative forum.

If any court of competent jurisdiction declares that any part of this Arbitration Agreement is illegal, invalid or unenforceable, such a declaration will not affect the legality, validity or enforceability of the remaining parts of the Agreement, and the illegal, invalid or unenforceable part will no longer be part of this Agreement.

THIS AGREEMENT IS A WAIVER OF ALL RIGHTS TO A CIVIL JURY TRIAL FOR A DISPUTED TERMINATION, DEMOTION, AND/OR A CLAIM FOR UNLAWFUL HARASSMENT OR EMPLOYMENT DISCRIMINATION.

STATE OF TEXAS        §
 COUNTY OF DALLAS    §

BEFORE ME, the undersigned Notary Public, on this day personally appeared Gary W. Eden, who, being duly sworn, deposes and states as follows:

1. My name is Gary W. Eden. I am over eighteen (18) years of age and am otherwise competent to testify to the matters stated hereinafter. I am the Managing Member of GECESP Associates, LLC ("GECESP"), and have held that position since the initial formation of GECESP in 2007. I am also the Executive Director of McKool Smith, P.C. ("McKool Smith"). As such, I have personal knowledge of the facts set forth herein, all of which are true and correct.

2. GECESP is a limited liability company whose sole purpose is to make investments. Specifically, GECESP is a limited partner in a real estate partnership known as Centcom/Vista Grove LP, Limited Partnership. Certain members of GECESP are employed by, or are shareholders of, the law firm McKool Smith. However, there is no legal or business relationship between GECESP and McKool Smith, which are completely separate and distinct legal entities with different management and ownership. McKool Smith does not have any ownership interest in GECESP, and GECESP does not have any ownership interest in McKool Smith. Neither Leslie D. Ware nor Samuel F. Baxter has ever had any ownership interest in, or other affiliation with, GECESP.

3. Chelsea L. Davis (“Davis”) was hired as an associate attorney by McKool Smith in March 2010. A true and correct copy McKool Smith’s offer of employment to Davis, which was signed by me as the firm’s Executive Director, is attached hereto as Exhibit A, and a true and correct copy of Davis’s email accepting such offer is attached hereto as Exhibit B. McKool Smith terminated Davis’s employment on January 11, 2011. A true and correct copy of the memorandum I sent to Davis advising her that her employment at McKool Smith had been terminated is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

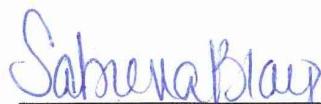

4. GECESP never employed or agreed to employ Davis for any purpose. Indeed, as an investment entity, GECESP does not have, nor has it ever had, any employees. Likewise, Davis never provided any legal services to GECESP, and GECESP never asked Davis to render any legal services to it.

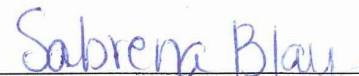

5. GECESP never entered into an agreement with Davis to arbitrate any dispute. Indeed, GECESP has never entered into any kind of contract or agreement with Davis at all, much less one that includes an arbitration agreement.

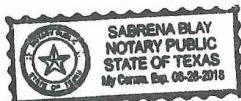

Further, affiant sayeth not.

Gary W. Eden

Dear Chelsea:

I am pleased to extend to you an offer of employment as an Associate of McKool Smith in its Dallas office. Your employment will be subject to the following terms: your monthly salary will be $14,583.33 and the term of employment will be through December 31, 2010. On or before December 1, 2010, we will review our current needs and advise you if your employment will be continued on a permanent basis past December 31.

In addition to your cash compensation the firm will provide you with group term life insurance of $500,000 and long term disability insurance with benefits up to 60% of your monthly earnings (up to a maximum monthly amount of $25,000). The firm provides health insurance for each employee through United Health Care's Choice Plus plan and is effective the first of the month following date of hire. The employee's cost of coverage per month is as follows: Employee only $106; Employee & Children $570; Employee & Spouse $667; and Employee + Family $853. These rates are effective through December 31, 2010, and are subject to a potential increase each year when the insurance contract is renewed. Enclosed are materials which summarize health plan coverage. We will be happy to provide you with additional materials which describe the health plan in greater detail upon your request. Additionally, you will also be eligible to participate in the firm's 401(k) retirement plan. Participants may begin on the first day of a new plan quarter after 30 days of service with the firm. The plan is on a fiscal year which begins November 1.

This offer is subject to the following: (1) verification that there are not any potential conflicts of interest that have not been resolved, (2) that you are duly licensed to practice law in the State of Texas, (3) that you have not been subject to a reprimand or disciplinary action by any State Bar, and (4) that you satisfactorily complete and return the attached questionnaire along with your acceptance of our offer on or before April 1, 2010.
